

Sustainable Lifestyles Policies, Instruments, Frameworks, Projects and Initiatives Questionnaire

1. Welcome to the Sustainable Lifestyles Questionnaire

The way we live our daily lives - our choices, habits and the context within which we live - have a profound effect on our planet, our communities and our wellbeing.

People around the world are finding new ways to live that support quality of life within our fair share of the Earth's resources - we need your help in revealing the thousands of solutions!

The Institute for Global Environmental Strategies and One Earth invite you to share examples of sustainable ways of living.

What are we looking for?

We are interested in solutions to how we live, move, consume, eat, relax, connect with each other, and spend our time. Your work may be focused on food, mobility, housing, consumer goods, leisure - or you may bring them together in a sustainable lifestyles initiatives.

We welcome these solutions in every form such as:

- Initiatives
- Experiments
- Policies and instruments
- Frameworks and ideas
- Business models
- Community projects
- Arts and education programs
- And more...

Some initial examples and further information about this project can be found on our website.

Filling out the questionnaire

Your progress through the questionnaire is shown through the progress bar and page numbers. Please note that you can re-visit previous questions by using the buttons at the bottom of each page.

Responses will be saved as you complete each page. However, once you close any tab the questionnaire is on, you will not be able to access your replies again. This is due to the questionnaire needing to allow multiple submissions from the same device. Please complete the questionnaire before closing the tab.

Please note it takes around 30 - 60 minutes to fill out this questionnaire.

Thank you very much for your kind contribution to our project! We look forward to reading your submission.

This questionnaire is part of the Envisioning Future Low-Carbon Lifestyles and Transitioning Instruments Project. The project is part of the Sustainable Lifestyles and Education Programme of the 10-Year Framework of Programmes on Sustainable Consumption and Production Patterns (10YFP). The One Planet Network is the network of the 10 Year Framework of Programmes on Sustainable Consumption and Production.
